

The FCC should continue the rule that limits the number of media outlets in a geographic area that can be owned by one corporate entity. America is a democracy with many voices. No one small group of owners should be able to control the media of our nation.